Fête Weekend 2001

June 30th and July 1st

Programme of Events

What your Fête has in store for you ... turn the pages.

Foreword

The first Bar Hill Fête took place on September 2nd 1972 after the Horticultural Society had asked the Residents' Association to discover whether a 'Village Fête or Fair' could be organised to coincide with their Summer Flower Show. In the intervening thirty years, the connection with the flower show has ceased, the name changed from the Bar Hill Fair to Bar Hill Fête and the date was transferred to the last Saturday in June.

To coincide with the opening of a new millennium, it has been decided that the fête should be given a new dimension: that each year it should have a dominant theme, and be part of a weekend of festivities. At the crucial turning point of each year, there is no reason why the fête should not be its high point in Bar Hill. It leaves only for the residents of the village to give it the support it rightfully deserves.

The Whaddon Stompers – Line-dancing for Charity

This line-dancing group based in Whaddon was set up in 1997 by Mrs. Lynn Law, Mrs. Audrey Alexander, Mrs. Alison Blood and a fourth lady who, sad to say, fell victim to cancer. The Whaddon Stompers raise money for McMillan Cancer Relief, by performing line-dance routines. Whilst the dancers do not give formal lessons in line-dancing, they do encourage on-lookers to join in and are happy to teach some basic steps 'on the day'.

Martell's Raiders – Wild West Show

Travel back in time to the days of the wild west, to the smell of gunpowder, the creak of the leather, the crack of the bullwhips and the whirl of the lariat. A western town brought to a venue of your choice. Open for booking for children's parties, fetes, galas, carnivals, clubs, cabarets. From a three-man to a 20-man show. Telephone Keith Martell on 01642 458230.

Mrs Jean Adamson

Jean Adamson, who lives in Stretham, wrote the first Topsy and Tim book in 1958 with her late husband, Gareth. Published as Topsy and Tim's Monday Book in 1960 (and still in print as Topsy and Tim's Red Boots, Yellow Boots), it depicted 'two average children in an average nuclear family, who lead average lives in an average urban home' (Fisher, Who's Who in Children's Books, 1975).

Forty years and 140 titles later, Jean is still writing and illustrating the occasional new title, and continually bringing older ones up to date. During this time, Topsy and Tim have grown slightly older, but still their lives remain totally predictable, having advanced from simple adventures such as going to the seaside to learning about road safety, and the dangers of meddling with unopened bottles and stationary vehicles.

Deliberately stereotyped in the five-to-seven age range, for many children and their parents, the books represent a desire for conformity and security in a changing world.

It is a formal communication, and it is the first of its kind in the history of the United States. The President, in this letter, informs the Congress of the death of the late President, and of the fact that the Vice President, who is now acting as President, has taken the oath of office.
